

Merry Christmas

Serving with AIBI Resources — <http://www.aibi.org>

Looking back as we close out 2008, the year has been packed to include a summer work trip to California and Arizona; the design and assembly of five new computers for staff in California, Arizona and Washington; boxes of bulk packed AIBI Resources CDROM and "Story of Jesus" DVDs sent to individuals in the US, Australia, Pakistan, India and South Africa for further distribution as well as individual packs sent around the globe. We have also seen a huge increase in the demand for solid Bible training materials in countries like Pakistan, Iraq, India and various other countries in western Africa. Praise the Lord with us for these tremendous opportunities to serve and help equip the saints for works of service as they serve our Lord.

The Eight Moores at Christmas

David—computers a fixing, websites a designing, CDs a printing, emails a sending, on phones a talking or texting

Tim — 2nd grade, soccer ball a kicking, school marathon a running, first tooth a losing, new friends a making

Rosie — 7th grade attending, friends a chatting and texting, email a checking, pictures a taking, neighbors a 'sitting

Jeff — kindergarten a going, lots of things a learning, school marathon a running, new friends a making, school bus a riding

Jocelyn — 3rd grade, reading and a writing, neighbor girls a playing, two front teeth a coming — finally, marathon-a-running, games a playing

Greg — 3 years old, energy levels a bursting, furniture a jumping, mischief a making, sisters a chasing

Angie — 4 years old, forward to school a looking, with Gregory a playing, ABC's a learning, pictures a coloring

Sheri — clothes and dishes a washing, food a preparing, floors, walls and windows a cleaning, weeds a pulling 2008 HAS FLOWN BY!!! There is always a flurry of activity around the BlueBarn. Everyday life (church, school, after-school, ministry opportunities) keeps us more than busy but there were a couple of memorable highlights. This spring, after many repairs and upgrades were completed, we moved back into the BlueBarn. We are so appreciative of so many who gave of their time and talents to make it happen. On June 1, David's parents celebrated their 50th anniversary. While we were in California, we had a family picnic at a local park to help celebrate this once-in-a-lifetime event. It was fun to see family from Texas and Ohio who were able to be there as well.

Group shot at Dad and Mom's 50th anniversary picnic